WHO WILL BE CALLED?

We are surprised that Hon. Governor Sir John A. Hendrie permitted himself to be interviewed as to his prerogative as the representative of the Crown in the matter of the calling of a person to form a new Government in place of the Healey Government. We cannot imagine either the Governor-General or King George V. making such a statement. Sir John's statement has already brought a rejoinder from Mr. Hartley Dewart, the leader of the Liberal Opposition, thus dragging the Crown into the political arena, which Sir John had no desire to do. This reply of Mr. Dewart contains a statement and an insinuation that would not otherwise have been called forth, when he says: "The people of the Province of Ontario are not in the humor to tolerate any further manipulation of the business of government, no matter what source it comes from."

Mr. Dewart also makes the point that there were only two parties in the House when it was dissolved, that the Government has been defeated and discredited, and that he is a legal and legitimate person, as the leader of the Opposition, to be called to form a new Government. We think that this position is correct. The Lieutenant-Governor should call Sir John Dewart to form a Government. If he fails some other person can be sent for. No matter whom Sir John calls, if he is unable to secure the confidence of the House he cannot stay.

We see no difficulty in the way. Mr. Dewart would not accept the invitation to carry a Government unless he had the assurance of sufficient support from the House to carry on the Government. At the time the present Government has resigned from office Mr. Dewart will know the mind of the various groups. If they should be satisfied to let him as Premier, the Lieutenant-Governor should have no other recourse than to appoint him. We cannot believe that Sir John would even think of asking a member of the Opposition to form a Government. As we have already said, whoever is selected must be acceptable to a majority of the members of the Legislature. Sir John must be careful to make no mistake in this matter. Any false step on his part might plunge the Province into another general election, which would be sure to be of an acrimonious nature, with, perhaps, himself the storm center.

However, we do not see that there need be any trouble. We believe that the various groups will come to a satisfactory arrangement among themselves as to the leadership. The group that will be on trial, and that will lead to difficulties at times, but we see no reason why we should not get a good or better legislation under the new system as under the old party system.

A BRIDE FOR THE PRINCE

The editor of the Montreal Herald says that when he was in England a short time ago he came across "someone" who was in a position to give some intimate particulars concerning the Royal Family. When he was turned on the Prince of Wales and his future bride. Those who have come into contact with the Prince while he has been in Canada will not be surprised to learn that in this respect in all others, the heir apparent has a mind of his own. It would seem that a number of suggestions have been made to him, but that he prefers to do his own choosing all in good time. He is long ago as it is well known, he visited a certain royal house where there are some of the very few princesses that may now be considered as eligible. Those who expected to see the announcement to follow his visit were disappointed, but there was, it seems, a private announcement, and it was asked about the said princesses he replied: "They are absolutely impossible."

Of course this may be only a yarn. But the princesses of royal blood are few and far between, and it is possible may probably that he will wed one of less than royal blood.

The same editor tells us that the Prince is credited with saying that he "didn't marry when he was in 'sell' phase," or words to that effect. We are also told that at one Canadian city when a dance was given in his honor list of partners who had been selected to dance with him. But he passed it aside and said, "Oh, please forget it. I'll select my own partners." The Prince may pick an English lady for his life partner, or he may pick a Canadian, perhaps in Hamilton? Who knows?

AMEND THE O. T. A.

Some eight hundred thousand men and women of this Province, almost two to one of the whole vote, have declared in favor of prohibition. They have voted "No" to all four questions, and the new Government has a mandate from the people which it dare not trifle with or attempt to evade. The present Act is far from perfect. We should amend it every day by the facts and frequency with which it is broken. More stringent regulations will have to be made against the bootlegger and the blind pig. Jail should be the only punishment for the offenders, and foreigners should be deported. Then there are the doctors' prescriptions that have done more to discredit the Act than any other thing. Some plans must be made to supply liquor for medicinal purposes without the need for prescriptions as at present. A system which permits anybody to get the needed to get all the liquor he requires as medicine, only to be used as a beverage or to get drunk on. We do not mean by this that the regulations should be loosened, they should be made more stringent.

There is a strong feeling that the O. T. A. is really one law for the rich and another for the poor. The fact that the man who could afford it was allowed to get his liquor by the bottle, while the workmen could not get a drink except through a blind pig has been a matter of much irritation to many people, even to those who did not believe in the prohibition. The justice of the thing. We think that matter can be regulated without aid of the Dominion Government. One man should not be allowed to guzzle himself to his heart's content, while others get nothing. The cellar should be emptied. At the same time we favor the Government defining some means whereby spiritual liquor could be obtained as a medicine when needed.

WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

We have been so long accustomed to the two party system of Government with members of the House elected to represent the whole people and not a section that the natural that some should look with suspicion on the appearance of the United Farmers and Labor in the Legislature. Those who have objected and purpose to elect their own class instead of preference to those of the people at large. There are some people who have expressed the belief that with the farmers in control the price of all food products will naturally increase. This, of course, is a delusion. While labor will be interested in all legislation that has to do with the betterment of the working people, we imagine that what benefits the working man will benefit the farmer. The Province at large.

We are not enough to remember the lamentations of the ruling class in the old country at the prospect of the working class getting the vote. These men are nothing but ruin in the face of the motherland at that time. But the people there are better off and have better laws than they ever had, the country is greater and more prosperous by listening of the franchise. There are no rotten boroughs in England today, but there is more justice as between man and man. We believe that the Canadian women will now have a wholesome influence in the public life of the Province, and that politicians will hesitate to do things now that they might have done before the women had the vote.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The cellars are still wet.

Well, the farm feeds us all.

The standard hotel still stands where it did.

Mr. Cody may now retire as gracefully as possible.

Now what have the January elections in store for us?

The women voted on Monday just as if it were a matter of course.

The doctor's prescriptions must come. But what will take their place?

Sir Adam Beck will stay on the job if the new Government has no objections.

Peace hath her victories as well as war. Let us have a victorious Union League campaign.

Sir Adam Beck's chief support in Hamilton was Labor, and Labor in Hamilton turned out down.

Fourteen thousand T. S. clericals have petitioned the Senate to pass the vote.

These four thousand men have voted.

It has been officially stated that, since the Department of Trade and Commerce assumed control of liquor in May last, there has been a reduction in the importation of noxious drugs.

For the three months ended September 30th, 1,100 pounds of opium were licensed for importation into Canada, compared with an average of 1,200 pounds in the same quarter last year. Similar comparison shows morphine reduced 65 per cent and cocaine 50 per cent.

And it is said that the traffic can be regulated.

Wrist Watches

The popularity of the Wrist Watch has embraced men and women in all walks of life. Recognizing the fact that it has come to stay, we have selected what we believe to be one of the greatest variety of this style of watch in Canada—certainly the most extensive in Hamilton.

A small variety could not possibly compass the myriads of tastes that exist in this community—hence our latest collection. Wrist Watches from the House of Klein & Binkley are imported and American made.

The women's styles are dainty in the extreme and the bracelets, therefore, of the most exquisite design and workmanship. The men's styles are dignified, simple and masculine. Quality dominates every watch and bracelet in the collection. Prices range from $10 to $650.

You owe it to yourself to see what we have before deciding to purchase elsewhere. Come in.

for the protection of trade routes under modern conditions was very much greater than it had ever been before. Nelson had called continually for a crusade, and in the recent war the cry of every admiral had been for a crusade. The Admiralty was available for the defence of trade routes should be based not on the number of men and ships, but on the disposal of a possible enemy, but upon the importance of the work that had to be done and the magnitude of the interests involved. The sole method of defending against the enemy in time of war, to-day as in the past, was the convoy system, and the convoy system had been adopted by the British in the recent war much earlier than was actually the case. It is the required number of cruisers had been available. The empire must have adequate forces to protect its trade routes. Had Sir Wilfrid Laurier been allowed to carry out his Canadian naval policy, Lord Jellicoe would have had the cruisers he was anxious to see. These cruisers would have been manned by Canadians. It is proving the correctness of the Laurier naval policy.

VON BERNSTORFF ON PEACE OFFERS

Ex Ambassador Before Commission On War Blame

Tells of Early Plans to End the War.

(A. P. Special Cable.)

Berlin, Oct. 22.—Count Johann von Bernstorff, former German Ambassador to the United States, who yesterday was the principal witness before the committee investigating the responsibility of German officials in causing the outbreak of the great war, resumed his testimony today.

While on the stand yesterday Count von Bernstorff told of the efforts made by President Wilson in 1914 and 1915 to find a way to bring peace proposals before the Allied Governments. German peace offers, however, were not made until the summer of 1918, and then only in the form of a peace conference. He said that President Wilson had been very active in the peace movement, and that he had been very active in the peace movement, and that he had been very active in the peace movement.

Secret documents from the Foreign Office are in possession of the committee, and records from the Admiralty and War Office, it is understood, he produced them.

The former Ambassador said President Wilson had been very active in the peace movement, and that he had been very active in the peace movement, and that he had been very active in the peace movement.
